

WANTS PROR TO HEAD CATTLE MEN

Texas Cattlemen's President Talks of the Coming National Meeting.

Alpine, Texas, Oct. 28.—J. D. Jackson, president of the Texas Cattlemen's association today in discussing the coming convention of the American National Livestock association in El Paso, said he hoped to see a large attendance of Texas cattlemen. Mr. Jackson said:

"I am glad the El Paso chamber of commerce has secured chair exites to the convention. I am sure that we will have a great convention, and I agree with A. W. Reeves that many cattlemen have not given the American National Livestock association the support they should. This association, with the Cattle Raisers' association, Texas, has just won the greatest victory before the interstate commerce commission that has ever been won and saved the cattlemen and farmers millions of dollars. But the interstate commerce commission has allowed the railroad company to file application to reopen the case on livestock, livestock products, and grain. Just why these commodities should be single out in more than any other is a question that should be settled by the interstate commerce commission. The attorneys for the Texas Cattle Raisers' association and the American National Livestock association, have been in Washington for some time and have filed a splendid protest against the reopening of this case and are making a hard fight."

Prayer For President.

"I note that Mr. Reeves says that J. H. Nations is spoken of for president of the American National Livestock association. Mr. Nations is an able man, and one of my best friends, but he is serving his first year as president of the Panhandle-Southwestern association and will succeed himself for another year. If he will accept it, I do not believe that he will permit his name to be before the convention as president of the American National Livestock association. I think made one of the best presidents it ever had, present incumbent not excepted. As Col. Pryor is now first vice president of the American National Livestock association, I think he will be in the presidency at our next meeting."

Texas Has Big Vote.

"There are some 100 memberships to the American National Livestock association, each of which is entitled to delegates, according to the number of its members. The Texas association and its members pay the American National Livestock association $25,000 per year and will be entitled to about three times as many delegates as any other organization, as it has over 300 members in good standing."

Col. Pryor is just recovering from an operation for appendicitis at the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore. I am sure that he will be offered the presidency of the American National Livestock association without opposition. His standing in Texas, Washington and elsewhere and his recent appointment on the tariff advisory board, with Thos. A. Edison and others of his standing, makes him a man that we cannot afford not to honor with this position. If he will accept it, I think he will be in the presidency at our next meeting."

HUNTERS KILL LIVESTOCK

BY CARELESS SHOOTING

Douglas, Ariz., Oct. 28.—According to Harry D. DuBois, who arrived here yesterday from his ranch near McNeal, careless shooting by hunters is responsible for the death of livestock in Sulphur Springs valley.

Ranchers in the valley are complaining of this practice, reports coming from all parts of the death of more or less serious wounding of animals. It is alleged that many of the miners from Bisbee, particularly the foreign element, go hunting rabbits with high power rifles and shoot indiscriminately without thought of how far their bullets carry. During the past week this institution handled 3833 sheep. Of this number 2000 were for Robinson Z Morris; 450 for the Gardiner Land and Cattle company; 750 for G. B. Franklin while the remainder were in small lots for W. A. Bates, D. A. Packard, L. J. Gilchrist, John Duggan, W. H. Hicham, San Siman Cattle company, A. H. Adams, G. C. Kilburn, T. S. The Union yards, meeting with the quarantine regulation upon cattle below the quarantine line, shipped 3000 head from old Mexico during the past 10 days. This is done less because of ticks than the fact that the cars are not so sanitary as they might be and this precaution is taken.

White Wyandottes Are Ideal Birds
Good Layers, Setters and Rustlers; Have Beauty and Are Able to Stand Cold Weather Better Than Most Breeds.

POULTRY raisers, whether they are such for pleasure alone or for both pleasure and profit, should select that particular breed which best suits their taste, for they will give them the best attention and thus get the best returns. Nearly all breeds are satisfactory if given the proper care and attention, but most of us prefer some particular breed and have good reasons for doing so. For a number of years the White Wyandotte has been my favorite and I am glad of an opportunity to tell why.

To begin with I may say that to me the ideal fowl is the one which combines beauty and utility to the highest degree, and by utility I mean the production of eggs and meat. The Wyandotte is one of the American breeds that is originated in America. The Silver Laced was the first variety, and it first began to be known about 1880. The breed was said to be produced by a careful mingling of Dark Brahma, Silver Spangled Hamburgs and a small amount of Cochon blood, a mixture which was expected to produce a splendid bird from a commercial standpoint.

How Got Names.

In 1882 they were admitted to the American standard of perfection, the names being given to them by F. A. Huethe of Massachusetts, who named the breed after a favorite ship of his father named "Wyandotte." These Silver Wyandottes produced occasional sports that were pure white in color. These were generally males, and to get good females to mate with them, White Hamburgs, White Leghorns, and in some cases White Cochon females were used, and it was a mixture of the offspring of these crosses which produced the White Wyandottes of today, one of the most popular breeds in existence.

Popularity of Wyandottes.

The popularity of White Wyandottes comes because of the following virtues.

First—They are beautiful, and there are few of us to whom beauty in fowls does not appeal, whether we are breeders for pleasure or profit. They are round bodied, with fairly short yellow legs and beak, pure white plumage, rose combs which follow the curve of the neck.

Second—They are excellent table fowls at any age, being very easily fattened. They carry a weight of from five to eight pounds, the ideal demanded for poultry by the buying public.

Third—They make excellent fowl for the home. The round body with broad, full breast, short yellow legs and yellow skin, give them an appearance which is rarely excelled by any other breed. They make fine broilers at eight to 10 weeks old and excellent rustlers at any age, being very easily fattened. They carry a weight of from five to eight pounds, the ideal demanded for poultry by the buying public.

Fourth—They are very docile and easily confined, and yet are not lazy, but are good rustlers if given free range. They are comparatively small, requiring very little more per bird than the Leghorns.

Fifth—The females make excellent sitters and mothers. They are just the breed that will hatch their own eggs. If it is so desired, however, they can easily be broken from sitting.

All of these good qualities justify us in claiming the White Wyandotte to be one of the best all purpose breeds in existence and one sure not to disappoint the most sanguine if they are given the same care that would be given any other breed.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness.

Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's strength-building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

MAJ. GEN. WOOD PRAISES WORK OF SUMMER CAMPS

New York, Oct. 28.—Major General Leonard Wood, United States Army, commanding the eastern department of the army, in an address to the members of the Technology club here, praised the recent citizens camps.

"We have got to make a lot of officers," said General Wood. "All told, the number of line officers in the United States Army is 10,000. In addition to these the national guard as well as those of the regular army do not total much more than 15,000 men, whereas for an army of 1,000,000 men we would need at least 25,000."

Coffee contains the drug, caffeine—about 21-2 grains to the cup.

Some people use coffee for years and either forget or don't know that caffeine is a cumulative poison, working away in the system, insidiously undermining and destroying health.

Some of the signs are headache, heart flutter, sleeplessness, biliousness, and various stomach, kidney and liver troubles.

Of course, if one prefers his coffee, and is willing to put up with these "comforters," why—keep right on!

But, if one values health and real comfort, and at the same time would enjoy a delicious, wholesome beverage, the thing to do is to quit coffee and use
